Server Down !

Two months on, still people unable to get printed records

People queue up before a Nemmadi Kendra kiosk at Corporation office near Akashavani Circle in city this morning. The functioning of Nemmadi Kendras has been severely hit due to server issue.

Mysuru, July 26 (MTY&BCT)- Karnataka State's ambitious Nemmadi Kendra kiosks across the city and district have stopped functioning due to server problem. The centres have not been functioning since two months and thousands of people who come to these centres have been put to severe inconvenience.

Nemmadi Kendras provide 38 different types of certificates, including income, caste, family tree, authentication certificates and is of much help to the physically challenged, widows, the elderly and people from weaker sections of society as they can get their certificates to avail benefits from various government schemes.

An initiative of the Department of E-Governance, the Nemmadi Kendras provide services for income certificate, widow pension, caste certificate, domicile certificate, birth and death certificates (birth and death authentication certificates), land records based on family tree and other related services.

There are seven Nemmadi Kendras in city and two among them are established at Mini Vidhana Soudha at Nazarbad, which houses the offices of the Sub-Registrar, Taluk Office, Taluk Panchayat, Assistant Director of Land Records, Assistant Director of Agriculture and many more offices. Now, up to 7 years jail for giving bribes

ಎತ್ತಿಗೆ ಜ್ವರ ಬಂದ್ರೆ ಎಮ್ಮೆಗೆ ಬರೆ ಎಳದರಂತೆ

[Not knowing the root cause and doing something else without solving the actual problem]

New Delhi, July 26- The Parliament has passed an Anti-Corruption Bill that provides for punishment to bribe-givers and takers, and extends prior nod for prosecution to former public officials with the Lok Sabha giving its assent to the law. The Prevention of Corruption (Amendment) Bill, 2018, passed by the lower house on Tuesday after a reply by Minister of State for Personnel, Public Grievances and Pensions Jitendra Singh, was passed by Rajya Sabha.

The Bill makes specific provisions related to giving a bribe to a public servant, and giving a bribe by a commercial organisation and it also modifies the definitions and penalties for offences related to taking a bribe, being a habitual offender and abetting an offence.

The Bill provides for imprisonment from three to seven years, besides fine, to those convicted. Bribe-givers have also been included in the legislation for the first time and they can be punished with imprisonment up to seven years, fine, or both.

Lunar Eclipse: No buses to Chamundi Hill after 6 pm tomorrow

Mysuru, July 26 (RK&NNN)- The entry of city buses to Chamundi Hill is banned tomorrow from 6 pm onwards owing to Lunar Eclipse. However, the buses will ply to the Hilltop on the occasion of Ashada Friday (July 27) carrying devotees from 4 am till 6 pm.

The KSRTC buses will stop picking the devotees after 6 pm from Lalitha Mahal helipad as the temple will close at 9 pm because of the Lunar Eclipse, said Temple Executive Officer K.M. Prasad, speaking to Star of Mysore here this morning.

Meanwhile, those who are awaiting darshan after 6 pm will be allowed to have it only till 9 pm tomorrow.

But in the remaining two Ashada Fridays on Aug.2 and Aug. 9, the Hill temple will be open from 5.30 am till 10 pm.

It is found that devotees gather at the helipad as early as 2 am because of the rush. However, it has been decided that the KSRTC buses will leave the helipad only from 4 am as the temple opens at 5.30 am, said Prasad.

Security sans safety

Given the goings on around the country, as is being faithfully reported by the land's print media, including the dailies of the State, the copy-writing fraternity at the editorial desk have reached a point of preparing the matter to be printed a day in advance, thanks to various recurring features of the declining quality of people's public conduct. The country's politicos disdainfully playing their daily game of squabbling among themselves and making public statements that all is well with the economy are an unfailing source of daily grist to the journos even as the masses are unperturbed on reading whatever appears in print day after day. Personnel guarding the borders of the nation ending as martyrs is so routine that nobody's heart goes out for their families. The ongoing incidents of thefts at ATM (Automated Teller Machine) kiosks, heists in banks, highway robbery, trespass into hostels of ladies, burglary in premises of defence staff despite presence of security staff and so on prompts one to remark that the name of the game people of the nation are playing is briefly security sans safety.

Global rating of countries by various parameters by recognised agencies being an exercise of recent origin has earned for India a place that is none-too-complimentary. One such rating published in the media a few days ago has reflected that the country's womenfolk are facing threat of assault like no other country in the world.

Schools, spiritual institutions, hospitals, hostels and homes in residential areas of cities, including Mysuru, are witnessing criminal acts by gangs who dare the law-keepers like never before. Instances of robbing and even murdering lone occupants of their homes, both elderly and middle-aged women, such as they are happening in Mysuru like never before, is a disappointing commentary on the steadily deteriorating quality of public life. Maybe, what is reported in the dailies featuring various untoward happenings such as persons disappearing, deaths under suspicious circumstances, kidnapping for ransom and so on doesn't give a total picture of the health of society.

Episodes of security breach at many strategic spots such as dams across rivers, defence establishments, power-generating plants, residences of VVIPs and so on are reported with the none-too-flattering tail-piece saying: Security is beefed up. The gates of the stable are always closed after the horses are gone.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

A SLICE OF JAIL LIFE: So you thought spending time behind bars, wearing jail uniform and eating unpretentious food, which is unlikely to satiate your hunger, is the stuff of nightmares? Well, if all goes as planned, that nightmare might soon become reality. The Kerala State Prison Department is deliberating on a proposal to open the portals of one of its Central Jails to visitors, who might want to spend a day there to get the feel of jail life. Of course, there is a fee to experience the "pleasure". The pay and stay plan is part of a programme being considered around a unique Prison Museum coming up on the Viyyur Central Prison premises in Thrissur district. Rare prison-related objects and documents, now strewn across various jails in the State, would also be displayed at the Museum. — In Business Standard.

Scientists make plants glow in the dark

Cambridge: Researchers at MIT School of Science, have made an important breakthrough in their quest to make plants that glow in the dark a reality. The researchers have embedded nanoparticles into the leaves of a watercress plant that caused the plants to give off a dim glow for three and a half hours.

Their next aim is to create plants bright enough to illuminate a workspace. If successful, the technology could also be used to transform trees into self-powered streetlights, the scientists claim. The team's ultimate goal is to engineer plants to replace many of the functions currently performed by electrical devices and appliances.

The main component of the MIT team's luminous plants is luciferase, the class of oxidative enzymes that gives fireflies their signature glow.

Hottest tiny chili that could shock you

Denbighshire: Welsh fruit grower Mike Smith, who set out to create a novelty chili pepper for a national grower's show had no idea that he would accidentally end up with the world's hottest chili.

Intended to be a tiny thing of beauty, the chile named as Dragon's Breath pepper turned out to be a sensory beast that can't really be consumed unless you're willing to put your life at risk. Experts believe that attempting to chew and swallow just one of these harmless-looking peppers would put a person at risk of death from anaphylactic shock. In laymen's terms, it would burn and close up their airways.

Mike Smith, who created the Dragon's Breath pepper with the help of researchers, says he hasn't tried to eat one, because it "would not be a pleasant sensation." He did put it on the tip of his tongue and found it unbearable.

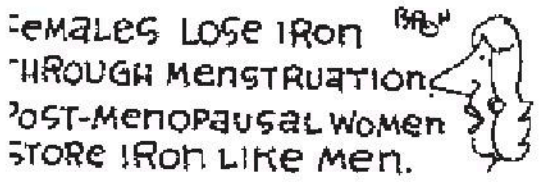
Should I be concerned about my iron level?



Ferretin or iron levels should be a part of the blood work of your annual physical exam. As we get older, we tend to store up iron in our organs. This can have an adverse effect on the heart, endocrine system, joints and reproductive organs. It can also cause arrhythmias, fatigue, weakness, depression and weight loss.

Pratap Simha raises Kodagu rain damage issue in Parliament

In a no-holds-barred attack, the Mysuru-Kodagu MP alleged Karnataka has not responded to untold misery

New Delhi, July 26 (PS&BCT)- Extensive rain damage in Kodagu and the lack of response from the Karnataka Government figured in Lok Sabha yesterday when Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha raised the issue when Deputy Speaker M. Thambidurai (from Tamil Nadu) was in the Speaker's Chair.

Starting his speech by mentioning that Kodagu is an important national asset from where River Cauvery, the lifeline of the people of Tamil Nadu originates, he requested Thambidurai to allow him to present in detail about the plight of people so that the governments listen and release immediate funds to solve the crisis-like situation in Kodagu.

Drawing the Speaker's attention, Simha said that thanks to the bountiful rain, every day more than 50,000 cusecs of water is being released to Tamil Nadu from the Cauvery basin. "While River Cauvery is in her full glory, rain has badly affected Kodagu and with roads washing away, trees, power and telephone lines snapping. Rain has brought untold misery to most parts of Kodagu and roads resemble craters," he said.

Thousands of hectares of fields have marooned and people can neither take up agricultural activities nor travel smoothly as roads have cracked open. "Roads that have been recently laid connecting Kodagu to Mangaluru, Kerala and Mysuru have been damaged. Even highways have cracked and have caused landslides. The plight of people living in remote areas is miserable with no roads, electricity or communication," he said.

Focusing on the crops of Kodagu, Simha said that while sowing paddy in water-logged fields was near to impossible, coffee and cardamom crops have been destroyed due to heavy rain. "MPs K.C. Venugopal and Karunakaran have been successful in getting special packages to Kerala. Unfortunately, Karnataka Government has not responded to the people of Kodagu despite severe damages," he pointed out.

"Even Venugopal, who was the In-charge All India Congress Committee (AICC) General Secretary, was unsuccessful in providing any relief to Kodagu though Congress was in power in Karnataka for five years. Also, now the Congress has managed a back-door entry to grab power in Karnataka along with the JD(S). Still, Kodagu is being consistently ignored," he alleged.

Lashing out at JD(S)-Congress Government for not coming to the rescue of people of Kodagu, Pratap Simha said that while the Governments of Karnataka, Kerala and Tamil Nadu are bothered about sharing Cauvery waters, the place where Cauvery takes birth (Kodagu) does not even figure in the discussion.

"When the BJP Government was in power in Karnataka, Kodagu got a grant of Rs.1,800 crore to Kodagu and with that money, several roads were repaired. But the Congress Government has sanctioned only Rs.300 crore to Kodagu which is a gross injustice," he said.

A view of the Madikeri-Mangaluru Highway that has been damaged due to heavy rain in Kodagu yesterday. Monsoon has picked up again in the district and extensive damages have been reported.

KSOU issue echoes in Lok Sabha

MP Dhruvanarayan seeks Central intervention to grant re-recognition

Mysuru, July 26- Chamarajanagar MP R. Dhruvanarayan has raised the issue of problems being faced by lakhs of students over the delay in granting re-recognition to the courses offered by Karnataka State Open University (KSOU), in the Lok Sabha.

Dhruvanarayan

Demanding restoration of recognition, Dhruvanarayan, who raised the issue during the Zero Hour in the Lok Sabha on Tuesday, sought immediate intervention of the Union government for resolving the burning crisis.

The University Grants Commission (UGC) had terminated recognition of KSOU in June 2015 from the academic year 2012-13 onwards, accusing the Open University of flouting norms.

The MP demanded re-recognition from 2013-14 and 2014-15 in the interest of students who had been admitted directly to the KSOU and to de-link the academic collaborative issue from in-house system (direct admission of students to the KSOU).

A press note from the MP said in-house admissions for 2013-14 with 49,675 students and for 2014-15 with 46,178 students had been completed by the time the UGC de-recognised the University courses. For no fault of theirs, 2,05,408 students had been left in the lurch following alleged lapses on the part of the administrative and governing bodies, he alleged.

The MP told the Parliament that the recognition was withdrawn on the grounds that KSOU was imparting technical courses through academic collaborative institutions outside its territorial jurisdiction.

The scope of show-cause notice was restricted only to technical, paramedical and management courses. But the UGC de-recognised all the courses, including the in-house ones, which were unnecessary, the MP said.

It may be mentioned, a team from the KSOU recently made a presentation before a six-member expert committee at the UGC headquarters in New Delhi seeking granting of recognition for offering Open and Distance Learning programmes for the academic year 2018-19.

It is common to change Syndicate Members: GTD

Bengaluru, July 26 (KMS&DM)- Higher Education Minister G.T. Devegowda (GTD) yesterday said that it is a common practice to change Syndicate Members in Universities whenever a new Government comes to power.

GTD

Recently, the Government had withdrawn the appointment of Syndicate Members in Universities made during the previous Congress Government led by Siddharamaiah. Speaking after inaugurating the academic activities of Maharani's Arts, Commerce and Management College in Bengaluru, GTD said that vacant Syndicate posts will be filled shortly and added that JD(S) supporters will be given preference in the appointments.

Stop heaping garbage in front of houses

Sir,

Heaps of dry leaves and garbage are piled up in front of my house for the last several weeks. The pourakarmikas dump it just in front of the compound of my residential house at No. 10, Vivekananda Road, Yadavagiri, after cleaning the street. It has caused a great deal of inconvenience and anguish to me and other inmates of the family.

Complaints made to the MCC Control Room on this behalf have gone unheeded. Either they do not respond to the phone calls or even if they take the call, they neither act on it nor register the same. There is utter apathy on part of the civic staff concerned.

I therefore request the officials concerned to take prompt action to clear up the mess that is piled up as early as possible in the public interest and also the health of the inmates of the house.

Multi-level parking

Sir,

The much-hyped multi-level vehicle parking at the Town Hall premises may not see light in the near future. Looks like the contractor to whom this work was entrusted has left the site executing about 6% of the work.

Probably the authorities concerned would have diluted all penal clauses in favour of the contractor, so that he can go scot-free without completing the work awarded under tender. Now who is responsible to ensure that the work is completed ?

It is the tax-payers money siphoned off by the contractor, engineers and politicians in the name of multi-level parking.

While drafting the tender documents, the authorities should include strict penal clauses, so that contractors are forced to complete the work as per the scope of the work mentioned in the tender.

Aggregation of Buddhist atoms

The fundamental difference between Hinduism and Buddhism rests on the idea of the soul or atma. Hindus say that there is a soul. They clarify that there is a soul within every individual living (jiva-atma) being and there is a cosmic soul that encompasses the universe (param-atma). By contrast Buddhists believe that there is no soul in the universe. What we call consciousness is actually an aggregation of various elements!

In the Buddhist worldview, the fundamental elements of the world are: Earth, Fire, Water, Wind and 'Aakash' or Space and what we nowadays refer to as radiation. In Japan when a person dies, the grave is often marked by a tombstone which has five symbols — square for the earth, circle for water, triangle for fire, crescent for the wind and an octagon or an almond shaped crown to represent space. This is the Buddhist equivalent of the Christian concept: you are dust, and you return to dust.

When these five elements (or rather unseen energies) come together they form particles known as 'parmanu'. These particles again join together and form aggregates called 'anu' and these aggregates keep forming until they can be perceived by sense organs. In fact, the sense organs are also formed by such aggregations.

Once sense organs are formed and they perceive the world around, it gives rise to sensations. Sensations gives rise to various feelings like happiness and sorrow, which then give rise to constructs such as hatred, jealousy, love, ambition. These, in turn, finally give rise to what is called consciousness. So, it is a series of what is called a dependent origination. Nothing exists autonomously, everything depends on something else.

In other words, the Hindu concept of 'swayambhu' — self created is in a way rejected by the Buddhists who say that everything depends on something else. Hindus see these five elements (Maha-bhutas) as distinct from the atma. Presence of atma transforms an inanimate object (ajiva) into an animate organism (jiva).

Besides this doctrinal differences, there are also many iconographic and ritual differences between Buddhism and Hinduism. For example, in Buddhism, the Buddha is often shown with his eyes shut unless he is a Bodhisattva whose eyes are partially open looking down at you. On the other hand, in Hinduism, the Gods have large unblinking eyes where they are doing darshan. Buddhism, thus, prefers the inward gaze over the outward one. In terms of ritual practices, Buddhism favours monasticism while Hinduism favours the married life. Even the Hindu Gods are married in temple ceremonies.

However, when Buddhism went out of India it left a part of itself in India in the form of monastic traditions. Hinduism always had individual monks who went away from society or community or the villages or the family. Around 800 to 1000 AD, the time when Buddhism slowly disappeared from India, Hindus adopted the practice of institutional monasticism which was called the 'mathas' or the 'akhadas'. Legend has it that these were started by Adi Shankaracharya, who was accused of being a crypto-Buddhist. Monasticism and meditation now plays a very central role in Hinduism. But while Buddhist monasticism and meditation is all about discovering dependent origination from the five elements, and the absence of atma, Hindu monasticism and meditation is all about discovering the mortality of the flesh, and the immortality of the atma.

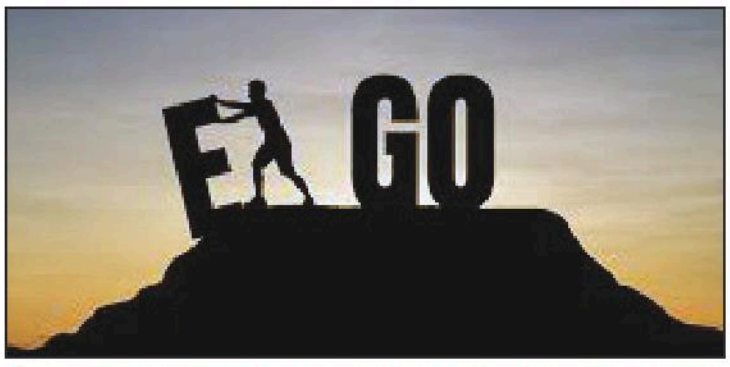
Say sorry even if you are right !

By N.K.A. Ballal,
Retd. Sr. Vice-President, ITDC



This is the real incident in the life of Shri Gopal Das, a Monk, as narrated by him to a gathering of his disciples:

Ballal

Due to some differences, I stopped talking with my father and this went on for about two years. What was the reason: a simple three letter word "ego." My mother was trying to persuade both of us to patch up. Just before I became a Monk, I had gone to our home. My father started to plead with me to forgive him and suddenly without any indication of the same, he fell on my feet asking me to forgive him. I was stunned and did not know how to react. However, due to the constant and gentle persuasion of my mother, we started to talk to each other. But a guilt feeling was over me for having made my father touch my feet.

Years passed and one day I got a call from my mother that my father had a heart attack and had passed away suddenly. I went for the cremation, gently touched his feet and with tears rolling down, I said "sorry." Then I realised that even though I had become a Monk, "ego" had not left me and that was the reason I could not say sorry to my father when he was alive and now it was too late as he was lying lifeless.

You should not make the same mistake I have made. Say sorry, even if you are right, if it can save a relationship. The Monk was humble enough to admit that he had not conquered "ego." On a lighter note, this should be easy for menfolk since when dealing with their better halves, they have to say 'sorry' hundred times, even if they are right most of the time.

There are three important things one can learn from the above experience. The first lesson is that one should not have any hesitation to say sorry, even if one is right. The second most important lesson is that one should do it in time. Sometimes the divide becomes so vast, it becomes difficult to patch up even if one wants to. The third lesson is that all efforts must be made to save relationships in life.

Every one from a Chairman of a company to a Peon have their own sense of "ego" but this should not come in the way of relationship. Wealth creates so many hurdles in relationships. If one just sits down and visualises, one can see that as one climbs up the success ladder, how certain friends and relationships fall by the wayside. After retirement, one has lots of time to think about the past and I too regret having destroyed many a relationship due to false sense of "ego."

A close friend of mine too had gone through this dilemma once when he had to choose between maintaining a relationship or destroying it in a case pertaining to an ancestral property. His father had claimed his share of the ancestral property but in such cases, the grandson has very minor share in the property. When his grandfather's property was being divided, somehow the uncles ignored his minority share rights and partitioned their properties. My friend asked my opinion and since I knew some top legal experts, I asked him to consult a top lawyer in this matter. We approached a senior lawyer, late Srinivas Achar, an authority on Hindu Succession Law.

The gentleman sat patiently and heard us out. He also made a family tree and since he was from Mysuru, he knew the approximate value of the property in question. He took about 15 minutes to compute the approximate share of my friend. His final advice, "Sir, your minority share of the property would come to about Rs. 1.5 lakh. But to get this you have to send legal notices to all your uncles and cousins. The case may linger for years. Your relationships with your near and dear ones would turn sour and become bitter. Is it worth it? So my advice to you would be to drop the idea of litigation and go on with your life. If the property value had been substantial, I would have asked you to go ahead with the litigation."

What a sensible advice and that too from a lawyer asking an interested party not to litigate ! Even till date my friend's relationship with his near and dear is cordial and he is very happy about it. One third of the litigations would be finished if only we look at it objectively. The worst offenders in filing appeals are the Government Departments. They just appeal to Higher Courts, even when they have weak cases, just to satisfy their egos. This is the reason we have thousands of pending meaningless cases all over the country.

Many of us are sometimes put in a position of crossroads in life when one has to choose between the devil and the deep sea. Either way, the loss is ours. But if one adheres to the Guru Mantra of "Say sorry even if you are right" then many a relationships are saved, making the world a better place to live in.

Disneyland at KRS

Minister asks officials to prepare blueprint

Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh, accompanied by KSTDC Managing Director Kumar Pushkar, State BJP Secretary M. Rajendra and other officials inspecting the Brindavan Gardens.

Mandya, July 26 (Nagaiah&BCT)- Following the announcement by Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy in his Budget speech that the iconic Brindavan Gardens at Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam will be developed on the lines of Disneyland in the US, Tourism and Sericulture Minister S.R. Mahesh visited the Dam site on Tuesday and held preliminary discussion with officials.

The CM has allotted an initial funding of Rs. 5 crore for the project. The Minister directed the officials to prepare a blueprint to convert the Gardens into Disneyland. Speaking to reporters after the meeting, Mahesh said that at present, 185 acres of land was available at KRS. "As per the estimate, officials have told me that 500 acres of land is available and most of the land has been encroached. I have directed Pandavapura Assistant Commissioner to survey the land and submit a report," he said.

The Disneyland-like tourist attraction will be developed in the 185-acre land along with the land that has been encroached. "We will take action to vacate the encroachment. I will hold discussions with CM Kumaraswamy and Water Resources Minister D.K. Shivakumar," he said.

The Gardens will be developed in such a way that the original shape of the Garden will be retained. The Garden should be redesigned and renovated for a refreshing look for a memorable experience for tourists," he said.

The Minister directed the officials to set up at least some attractions at KRS so that the place will attract more tourists during this Dasara.

Mahesh pointed out that lack of illumination at Brindavan Gardens was a big turn off for the tourists. "This Dasara we will ensure that bright colours are on display that will enhance the beauty of the Gardens and water," Mahesh said.

On the issue of allowing people atop the KRS reservoir especially when the water is released for visitors to have a spectacular view of the Dam and the gushing waters, the Minister said that the tourists were banned to ensure their own safety. "There have been incidents where people have risked their lives atop the Dam and also there is the question of Dam security. In the coming days, I will discuss the issue with the CM and take a decision," he added.

Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation (KSTDC) Managing Director Kumar Pushkar, Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Limited (CNNL) Executive Engineer Basavarajegowda, Horticulture Department Joint Director Nagaraju, Deputy Director Raju, Senior Director Habeeba, Tourism Department Assistant Director Harish and others accompanied the Minister.

Three Jalapathotsavas await August tourists

- Chunchanakatte Jalapathotsava at K.R. Nagar on Aug. 11 and Aug. 12
- Bharachukki Jalapathotsava in Kollegal on Aug. 18 and 19
- Gaganachukki Jalapathotsava in Mandya on Aug. 25 and 26

Mysuru, July 26 (SPN&BCT)- Minister for Tourism and Sericulture S.R. Mahesh has announced that 'Jalapathotsava' would be organised at Chunchanakatte in K.R. Nagar on Aug. 11 and Aug. 12, Bharachukki Waterfall in Kollegal on Aug. 18 and 19 and Gaganachukki Waterfall in Mandya on Aug. 25 and 26.

At Bharachukki, this will be the fourth Jalapathotsava. The first Jalapathotsava was held in 2007 Aug. 11 and 12. The next was in 2013 Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and the last Jalapathotsava was in 2014, Aug. 16 and 17.

The Jalapathotsava will be organised at three places to enhance the beauty of the waterfalls that has seen increased flow of water this year, thanks to copious rain and water releases from reservoirs along the Cauvery Basin. "We are targeting tourists from far and wide to witness the grand event where water can be seen in different colours and hues," he said.

The Minister directed the officials to organise the Jalapathotsava in a grand manner as Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy will inaugurate the festival. "This Jalapathotsava will be different from the previous such events. We will ensure that tourists are not inconvenienced due to traffic snarls at places including Gaganachukki and Bharachukki," he said.

"I have already held a meeting with officials and they have been directed to prepare for the annual event without giving room for any complaints," he added.

Stating that there is a proposal to create additional facilities at an estimated cost of Rs. 2.5 crore, the Minister said it is intended at creating more safety measures to allow the visitors to savour the beauty of water in its splendour from close. The officials have been directed to prepare an action plan in this regard, he added.

On partial damages suffered by iconic Wellesley Bridge near Kollegal after a part of which collapsed and washed away in the flood of Cauvery River near the falls recently, he said the Department of Archaeology, Heritage and Museums will be taking up the restoration works at an estimated cost of Rs. 1.5 crore.

"We want to retain the heritage structure. I have told the officials to take up restoration works of Madhyaranga Temple which is also located in the tourist circuit," he added.

To a query on improving road connectivity to the Falls, Mahesh said the road from Sathegala Handpost to the Falls will be widened further and also asphalted. Hanur MLA R. Narendra said the work on building an amphitheatre near the Walls has failed to take off due to lack of adequate funds. The Minister promised to provide funds to the same.

The Minister was accompanied by Tourism Department Director B. Ramu, Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation MD Kumar Pushkar and Additional Deputy Commissioner K.M. Gayathri.

'Tomorrow's Lunar Eclipse will cause political upheaval'

Predicts Kodi Mutt Seer

Will big brother H.D. Revanna replace H.D. Kumaraswamy as CM?

Arasikere, July 26- The solar eclipse (July 13) and lunar eclipse (July 27) which have come at the same time will cause political turbulence in the State, according to Kodi Mutt Seer Sri Shivananda Shivayogi Rajendra Swamiji.

The Seer, who predicts the future upon screening the palm leaf, has said that the brother would hold the reins of power, which literally means that H.D. Revanna, the elder brother of Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy, will replace the CM.

Speaking to a Kannada news channel, the Seer said that the lunar eclipse will result in huge loss of natural resources and the State will witness earthquakes in the days to come.

Foreseeing more rains in the coming days, the Seer said this would cause havoc and destructions.

The Seer's prediction assumes significance as many of his predictions earlier on State and National politics have gone right.

With the Kodi Mutt Seer's prediction of a political upheaval, the people of the State are looking at what may happen in the coming days after tomorrow's (July 27) lunar eclipse.

Leopardess trapped inside drain dies of suffocation

Post-mortem report yet to be out

Mysuru, July 26 (KS)- A leopardess, aged about one-and-a-half years which hid inside a roadside drain after seeing villagers, died of suspected suffocation and alleged delay in rescuing it by the Forest Department at Royal Care Layout near Gowhalli on the outskirts of city yesterday.

It is learnt that the leopardess, was seen by a shepherd at the Layout at about 12 noon who informed the villagers. Soon hundreds of villagers began to arrive at the spot and the leopardess took shelter inside a roadside drain nearby out of fear. The villagers then blocked both the openings of the drain to prevent the animal from escaping and immediately informed the Forest Department officials.

Villagers said that the Forest officials who reportedly came after a couple of hours after being informed managed to put a noose around the neck of the leopardess and tried to pull it out but could not. They then said that they would tranquillise the animal and capture it, the villagers added.

Stating that the leopardess had died by then, the villagers said that the Forest staff then put the noose again and pulled out the dead animal besides expressing the anguish over the way the Forest staff tried to capture it.

The villagers said that the Forest staff were not prepared for the rescue operation and alleged that seeing the way they tried to capture the animal, one could clearly understand that the staff are not trained to handle such situation and mourned its death.

The Forest official said that they suspected that the animal may have died of suffocation or shock. But the local residents alleged that the leopardess had died of a failed rescue operation.

But what happened later was worse. The villagers failed to treat it with dignity as they carried the carcass of the dead animal on their shoulders and posed for photographs. The body was shifted from shoulder to shoulder as the villagers clicked selfies with the dead animal even as the Forest staff stood as mute spectators.

Later, the Forest Department personnel took the dead animal into their possession.

Meanwhile, DCF (Wildlife Division) Siddaramappa said that the officials who conducted the rescue operation informed that the leopardess had died of suffocation. He further said that the post-mortem was conducted this morning and the exact cause for its death would be known only after the post-mortem report is received.

Server down at Nemmadi Kendras

All the centres have been facing server problem since the beginning of June. "There is no regular service here. Sometimes the server is on while most of the times it is down," said a resident of Hebbal. On an average, over 2,500 applications for various certificates are accumulated every day at these seven centres within the city limits.

People who come from far-flung areas of Mysuru taluk every day are being turned away. "I have come from a village near Jayapura and I wanted to take an eligibility certificate for my widow pension. But here the officials have told me to come after a month," said 65-year-old Sakamma, who lost her husband recently and desperately needs money to sustain.

One of the staff working at the Nemmadi Kendra said that the server problem exists in many districts across the State. "The central server is located in Bengaluru and most of the times, our servers are down and we are not able to connect to the main server. The services have been affected in Periyapatna, Nanjangud, H.D. Kote, K.R. Nagar, Hunsur, Srirangapatna and Mandya also," he said.

Another person, who was manning an empty counter, said that there must be two persons to man one Nemmadi Kendra.

"Here, the contractor who has bagged the tender to supply workforce has deployed only one person per Nemmadi Kendra and he is billing the government for two persons in connivance with senior officials," he said on condition of anonymity.

"We have not been given salary since the last six months and only in April this year, we got some pending dues. After April, we have not been paid," another staff at Nemmadi Kendra said. He alleged that when C. Shikha was the Mysuru Deputy Commissioner she had blacklisted the contractor for unsatisfactory services. "Now the same contractor has bagged the tender after he changed the name of the company," he alleged.

It may be recalled here that Star of Mysore had, on June 28, published a report 'Server down at Mini Vidhana Soudha' and after three days, the server was set right. But the servers functioned only for three days.

An irresistible combination of tenderness and melody

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

Young Tarini Nagarkar gave a vocal concert on the 15th of this month with Pt. Bhima Shankar Bidanur on tabla and Pt. Veerabhadriah Hiremath on harmonium.

Tarini is a young artiste of sixteen years. What is more appreciative is the way she has taken classical music seriously though living in a foreign land. Her training under stalwarts like Pt. Nagaraj Hawaldar and Pt. Vinayak Toravi, added to her enthusiasm in learning, has given her singing an irresistible combination of tenderness and melody.

Tarini has a very rich, sweet-sounding voice, which she has trained to sound sweet even in the upper octave. Her Bihag was marked by a slow tempo that was admirable. 'Kaise sukh sove' in vilambit Ektal followed by Madhya lay addha 'sab sahiya' was devoid of gimmicks. Dhrut in teen tal 'Langara Dheet' maintained its dignity in speed. Adhana Kanada strictly adhered to tradition but could have been expanded with more depth. Accurate pitching throughout the concert deserves a special mention.

The latter half of the concert had a delightful set of chutukas. 'Tappu nodade bandeya ennaya tande' by Prasanna Venkata Dasaru, 'Ide samaya Hariye doreye' by Vijaya Dasaru, 'Lokoddharini Amba Bhavani' by Rekha in Sindhu Bhairavi and a Tulasidas bhajan 'Raghuvara tumako' were sung with surprising clarity.

Veerabhadriah Hiremath and Bhima Shankar provided encouraging and soothing support throughout the concert.

him earn a name for himself and carve a niche as the authentic heir of the Maharajapuram style. He has a stronghold on lakshya and lakshana in Karnatak music. He is well-versed in Solo and Jugalbandi performance.

NATIONAL SPORTS AWARDS

Asian Games performances may be considered

New Delhi, July 26- The Sports Ministry is open to the idea of considering outstanding performers of next month's Asian Games for this year's National Sports Awards, which will be held on Sept.25 instead of the conventional Aug.29 to ensure that athletes do not miss out due to their participation in the continental show-piece.

Every year, the National Sports Awards ceremony is held on Aug.29 at the Rashtrapati Bhavan to commemorate the birth anniversary of hockey legend Major Dhyan Chand as the National Sports Day.

But in a departure from tradition, the Awards Ceremony will be held on Sept.25 to avoid a clash of dates with the Asian Games to be held in the Indonesian twin cities of Jakarta and Palembang from Aug.18 to Sept.2.

Sports Secretary Rahul Bhatnagar said, the decision was taken to ensure maximum participation from sportspersons and the Sports Ministry has already received a green signal from Rashtrapati Bhavan on the change of dates. "The Sports Ministry has decided to shift the date as it coincides with the Asian Games. We want maximum participation from athletes, coaches and officials at the awards ceremony so we wrote to Rashtrapati Bhawan, requesting for the change of date," he told.

"The athletes who will receive the sports awards this year have already been selected on the basis of their entries received before April 30. But the Government has provision to name outstanding sportspersons of Asian Games to the recommendation committee," Bhatnagar said.

"The recommendation committee will have a meeting after the Asian Games and it will be up to them to decide. If they decide to include some more deserving names, they can be included along with the selected ones."

Rajiv Gandhi Khel Ratna is the highest sporting honour for an Indian athlete and has not been given to more than four athletes in a single year.

Arjuna Awards are next in the pecking order and have been given to a maximum of 17 athletes in a single year so far.

Dronacharya Award is handed out to outstanding coaches, while the Dhyan Chand honour is a lifetime achievement honour.

Journalist Gauri Lankesh murder case

Congress MLC's Secretary arrested

Bengaluru, July 26 (UNI)- The Special Investigation Team (SIT) investigating into the murder of journalist-activist Gauri Lankesh, have arrested one more person from Madikeri in Kodagu taking the total arrested to ten.

Police said that Rajesh D. Bangera, who was arrested, was remanded to Police custody till August 8 by 3rd ACMM Court.

Bangera is the Personal Secretary of Congress MLC S. Veena Achaiah.

With this the total number of arrest in connection with murder of Gauri Lankesh, who was shot dead in front of her house in Bengaluru last year, has risen to 10 and the team has intensified investigation.

Bangera, 50, works as a Second Division Assistant in the Education Department in Mangaluru and was appointed as Veena Achaiah's Personal Secretary after she became the MLC.

Rajesh

Gauri Lankesh

He was arrested from his hometown in Madikeri. He was in possession of two licenced firearms.

He allegedly imparted weapon training to youth recruited by Amol Kale, a key suspect, and is believed to be one of handlers of suspected gunman Prashant Wagmore.

"He trained Kale's boys and showed them how to handle guns and fire at a safe range for effective results," said a source from the Special Investigation Team (SIT), which is probing the case.

Bangera allegedly used the permits to procure ammunition for Kale. "He is an active member of right-wing Hindu outfits and would attend meetings where he often expressed his ideology, which hinged on the belief that Hinduism had to be safeguarded. He would instigate people to take up arms," the source added.

It was through these meetings that he met Kale, who is from Pune in Maharashtra.

According to investigators, the two reportedly bonded over their common ideology and soon Bangera started training people. He allegedly helped Kale identify potential recruits.

Man sentenced to 10 years imprisonment for raping mentally retarded girl

DNA test helps solve the case

Mysuru, July 26 (KS)- The Fifth Additional District and Sessions Court has sentenced a man to 10 years rigorous imprisonment and has imposed a fine of Rs.4,000 for raping a mentally retarded girl in 2016.

The man, who has been sentenced by the Court, is 37-year-old Shivakumar, a resident of Kyathamaranahalli.

On February 2016, the girl, who had come out of her house to answer nature's call, was lured by Shivakumar, who took her to the terrace and had raped her. The accused had raped her multiple times and had threatened to kill her if she disclosed the matter to anyone.

The parents of the girl, who observed changes in her, took her to the hospital, where they learnt that she was pregnant and on enquiring the girl, she is said to have narrated the ordeal following which the parents of the girl began to pressurise Shivakumar to marry the girl. As Shivakumar began to evade and got engaged to another girl, the parents of the girl lodged a complaint at Udayagiri Police Station. In the meantime, the foetus was aborted.

Udayagiri Inspector P.P. Santosh, who took up the investigation, collected blood samples of Shivakumar and the girl and had sent it for DNA test. The DNA test report showed that Shivakumar was responsible for the foetus in the womb of the girl following which Inspector Santosh had submitted a charge-sheet to the Court.

Judge C. Chandrashekar, who heard the arguments, found Shivakumar guilty of the crime and sentenced him. Public Prosecutor Mahantappa argued on behalf of the Government.

Misuse of Rs.9.8 lakh of 14th Finance Scheme

Criminal case registered against four persons including Rammanahalli GP President

Mysuru, July 26 (KS)- Following accusation of misusing Rs.9.8 lakh of the 14th Finance Scheme, a criminal case has been registered against four persons including the President of Rammanahalli Gram Panchayat (GP) at Mysuru South (Rural) Police Station.

Taluk Panchayat (TP) Executive Officer C. Lingarajaiah, in his complaint to Mysuru South (Rural) Police, has alleged that Rammanahalli GP President Rekha, previous Panchayat Development Officer (PDO) Shivakumar, proprietor of Fashion Huts at Vijayanagar in Mysuru Manju and M. Lingaraju Swamy had misused Rs.9.8 lakh.

Details: Shivakumar, who was the PDO at Rammanahalli GP, was transferred as Hairige Gram Panchayat PDO on Sept.21, 2017 and Ganesh Murthy was appointed in his place.

But on Dec.28 and 29, 2017, Rs.4.8 lakh and Rs.5 lakh were withdrawn respectively from the 14th Finance Scheme account and there are no details about the works undertaken or purchase of items for the withdrawn amount totalling Rs.9.8 lakh.

An enquiry was held in this background during which it was found that an amount of Rs.4.8 lakh was transferred to the account of Manju, proprietor of Fashion Huts in Mysuru and Rs.5 lakh transferred to the account of M. Lingaraju Swamy through cheques which bore the signatures of Rammanahalli GP President Rekha and PDO Shivakumar. When a notice was issued to Shivakumar seeking explanation, Shivakumar is said to have confessed of misusing the money and produced a bank challan where he had deposited the money to the account of GP account, which showed that he had indeed misused the money, following which TP Executive Officer C. Lingarajaiah lodged a complaint at Mysuru South (Rural) Police Station seeking action.

The Mysuru Rural Police, based on the complaint, has registered a criminal case under IPC Sections 408, 409, 420 r/w 34 and are investigating.

WORD OF THE DAY

Behemoth

Pronunciation: bih-HEE-muth.

Meaning: Often capitalised: a mighty animal described in Job 40:15-24 as an example of the power of God; something of monstrous size or appearance.
Origin: The original behemoth is biblical; it designates a mysterious river-dwelling beast in the Book of Job. Based on that description, scholars have concluded that the biblical behemoth was probably inspired by a hippopotamus, but details about the creature's exact nature are vague. The word first passed from Hebrew into Late Latin, where, according to English poet and monk John Lydgate, writing in 1430, it "playne expresse[d] a beast rude full of cursednesse." In English, behemoth was applied generally to anything large and powerful.
Examples: "Dowd, who has lived in the same housing development since 1989, keeps a plot in the community garden: a mulchy oasis amid brick behemoths." — Michael Schulman, The New Yorker, 25 June 2018.
"Pietro's tiny shop has become a behemoth that sells goods in more than 160 countries, employs 40,000 people and makes 365,000 tons of Nutella per year." — Noah Kirsch, Forbes, 30 June 2018.

THE ODD WORD

Borborygmus

A rumbling or gurgling noise in the intestines.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Halcyon days

Meaning: Calm, peaceful days.

Origin: The Halcyon is a bird of Greek legend and the name is now commonly given to the European Kingfisher. The ancients believed that the bird made a floating nest in the Aegean Sea and had the power to calm the waves while brooding her eggs. Fourteen days of calm weather were to be expected when the Halcyon was nesting - around the winter solstice, usually 21st or 22nd of December. The Halcyon days are generally regarded as beginning on the 14th or 15th of December.
The source of the belief in the bird's power to calm the sea originated in a myth recorded by Ovid. The story goes that Aeolus, the ruler of the winds, had a daughter named Alcyone, who was married to Ceyx, the king of Thessaly. Ceyx was drowned at sea and Alcyone threw herself into the waves in a fit of grief. Instead of drowning, she was transformed into a bird and carried to her husband by the wind. The myth came to the English-speaking world in the 14th century, when, in 1398, John Trevisa translated Bartholomew de Glanville's De proprietatibus rerum into Middle English.
